Take Your Bike On Board

If you're a commuter and a cyclist, it's easy to bring your bike on board. Every Metrolink car can hold up to three bikes, and the 12 new bike cars can hold up to 18 bikes each on the lower level. The bike cars are on selected trains and can be recognized by a yellow "Bike Car" decal on the side of the car or the large bike train wrap with the words "Metrolink Bikes" and the image of a bicycle.

Bike to Work or for Fun

With more room for bikes on Metrolink trains, you can take the train and bike to work. Or take the train and bike somewhere new on the weekend. Just look for the Metrolink bike cars on select Orange County weekday trains. On weekends, you'll find bike cars on the OC and IEOC lines.

For more about Metrolink bike cars, visit www.metrolinktrains.com.

Making Biking Easier

The bike cars were added on select trains operating in Orange County and other Metrolink trains systemwide. The cars are specially designed with six stalls on the lower level that hold three bikes each. The bike cars are part of Metrolink's green initiative and provide a user-friendly experience for cyclists who ride their bikes to and from Metrolink stations.

To make your trip to Angels Stadium even more enjoyable this season, Metrolink will hold Friday night trains for 45 minutes after the game so you can stay for the fireworks.

Get Arrival Times on Your Cell Phone

Now you can get Metrolink train arrival times on your cell phone. It's OCTA's Text4Next, a pilot program that lets Metrolink customers use text messaging on their cell phones to get the next three scheduled times the train will arrive at a specific station.

Text4Next is a quick and convenient way to confirm train schedules on the go and get train information 24 hours a day. Text4Next is currently available at all 21 stations served by the three Orange County Metrolink lines (OC, IEOC and 91 Lines).

Using Text4Next Is Easy

Send a text message to 628246, type the keyword "train," and enter the 3-digit station identifier for your beginning and ending station. You'll receive both the train number and the train arrival time for the next three scheduled train trips between your two stations, based on the time the text message was sent.

THE LATEST ON THE FULLERTON PARKING STRUCTURE

The new Fullerton Station parking structure located west of Harbor Boulevard is now more than 75 percent complete.

Inside the structure, the stairways are being finished, and two elevators are being installed. Painters are busy as well. Electricians have installed light fixtures throughout the structure.

Outside, landscaping preparations are under way and workers are installing brick on the building's façade. Installation began on the steel structure that will support a canopy with solar cells to supply power for the building.

The parking structure will also have something for on-the-go readers—a self-service book vending machine from the Fullerton Public Library (FPL). The machine will be stocked with Best Sellers and various paperbacks. Readers can use their FPL card to check out books and can return them in the "Return" box by the machine. When the structure is completed June, you'll be able to save time parking and picking up a book.
